SPECIAL FEATURES

/// CORRUGATED EXPERIENCE

Market data provided by all analysts show the corrugated cardboard market is in constant growth.

Europe is the area where the largest manufacturers of machinery and systems for the production, converting, printing of corrugated cardboard live. It is, therefore, a point of excellence worldwide for R&D activities and technological innovation. This exhibiting area is for Italian and international companies, producing off-set, digital and flexo technologies.

/// PRINTMAT

Designers, agencies, and brands are thirsting for new types of materials and substrates that will help them express their creativity, also from an environmental, social, and economic sustainability perspective.

It is estimated that the market for advanced materials, will reach a value of $102.48 billion in 2024, with an annual growth rate of 10.4 percent.

This area is for companies that want to showcase materials and substrates in relation to their printing capability and yield.

INNOVATIVE PRINTED MATERIALS

/// GREEN PRINTING

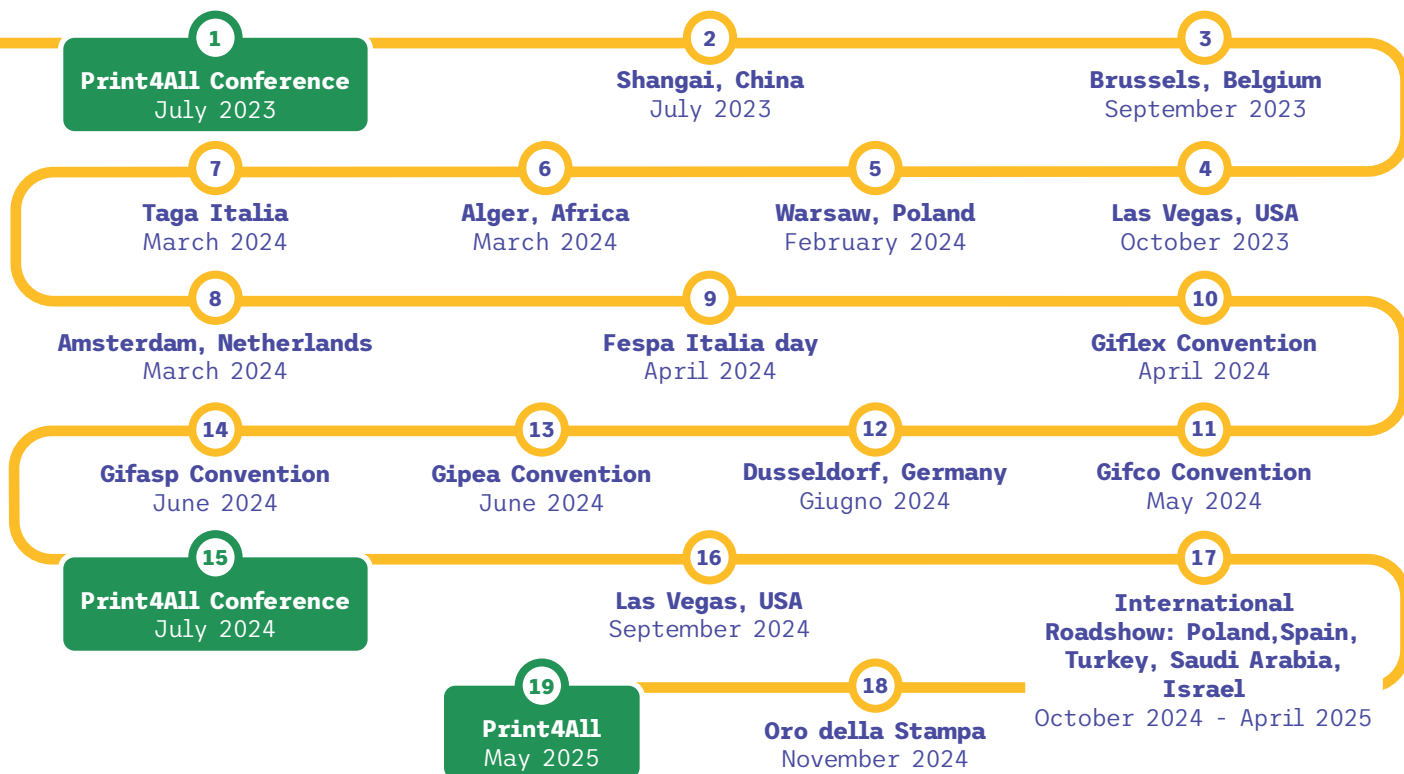

Pursuing the principle of the 4 Rs (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle and Recover) is one of the goals that companies in the printing and converting industries have as their priorities.

Printing sustainability is also ensured by services that help printers and converters dispose of and recycle waste and production materials.

This is the exhibition area for those who offer waste management solutions in the printing and converting industry.
